CRUISIN’ THE COAST SETS RECORD YEAR FOR 25TH ANNIVERSARY MILESTONE

BY CASSANDRA FAVRE
STAFF WRITER

The 25th annual Cruisin’ the Coast was a “record-breaker,” Hancock Tourism Director Myrna Green said.

This year, there were more than 9,496 classic cars registered, she said.

Green said that there were more than 1,200 first-timers this year.

Organizers also estimate that there were about a third more classic car riders that attended, but didn’t register, Green said.

The events in Hancock County kicked off last Wednesday in Diamondhead with the 9th annual Blessing of the Classics. Green said that there were about 300 vehicles that received a blessing.

On Thursday, about 389 Mopars parked at the Bay St. Louis Depot, “Mopar Day in Da Bay” co-coordinator

All treats, no tricks for Boo in the Bay parade & ‘Haunted Poker Chip Stroll’

BY GEOFF BELCHER
GENERAL MANAGER

There are way more treats than tricks in store for the second annual Boo in the Parade parade scheduled for Saturday, Oct. 23 in downtown Bay St. Louis, including a pre-parade costumed “poker stroll” the night before.

“We are super excited and we’re hoping to have an even bigger turnout than last year,” parade co-founder Gayle Adams said Tuesday. “The parade has over 200 units this year.”

The first annual pa-

“The turn-out for reg-amazing. We were overwhelmed with emotion when we saw all the children on the route.”

In addition to the parade this year, Adams said, will be the inaugural “Haunted Poker Chip Stroll” through Old Town Bay St. Louis from 6-9 p.m. on Friday, Oct. 22.

The stroll will begin at Cuz’s Old Town Oyster Bar & Grill, with stops at Dan B’s, Buoy’s, Daiquiri Shak and Bodega’s. Registration is $25

Hancock Youth Leadership Academy High School and Junior High Programs to release 2022 applications

SEA COAST ECHO

Applications for the 2022 Hancock Youth Leadership Academy (HYLA) High School and Junior High programs, an initiative of the Hancock Resource Center, will be available to interested high school juniors and eighth graders who show leadership potential beginning on October 15, 2021. Hancock Youth Leadership Academy teaches leadership according to the tenets of Courage, Character and Service.

The HYLA Junior High program is seeking eighth grade students from one of the four middle schools in Hancock County (or homeschooled equivalent) to be a part the HYLA Junior High class of 2022. Candidates for the HYLA Junior High program typically have leadership potential but have not yet had the opportunity to discover it. The Hancock Youth Leadership Academy will help these unlikely leaders recognize their potential. Students from the four schools will meet together for four full-day sessions to learn about leadership skills, community development and high school readiness. The last session will include a service project planned by students. The cost of the program is $100.00 per student; applicants may request scholarships through the school that they attend.

Informational sessions are currently being scheduled for interested eighth graders at all the middle schools in the county. Please see your guidance counselor for times.

The HYLA High School program is based on building college readiness, appreciation of community assets, and developing leadership potential. This program targets eleventh grade students from all Hancock County schools (as well as their homeschooled equivalents) who are able to balance academics and multiple activities while prioritizing this program; is interested in learning more about the community and will benefit from leadership skills training. The cost of the program is $250; applicants may request scholarships through the school that they attend.

Informational sessions are currently being scheduled for interested eleventh graders at all of the high schools in the county. Please see your guidance counselor for times.

Applications for both programs will be available beginning October 15th through the schools, at Hancock Resource Center, and on the Hancock Resource Center website, www.hancockhrc.org. HYLA staff will hold a workshop for interested high school applicants on Wednesday, October 27, 2021 at 6:00 pm at the Hancock Resource Center office, located at 454 Highway 90, Suite B in Waveland (next to PRCC) OR there will be a recording to watch beginning October 28th that you must register for. Applicants should attend ONE of these workshops (not both). This workshop is highly recommended and will cover in detail the application and interview process as well as expectations for personal statement submission. The deadline for submission of both applications is Monday, November 8th by 4:00 p.m. High school applicants must attend an interview on November 30th or December 1st. Students will be notified of selection before the Christmas holidays.

OLA continues Mentoring Program

SEA COAST ECHO

Big Sister–Little Sister is a mentoring ritual between the senior and freshman classes that was started in 1976 at Our Lady Academy (OLA). The senior Class of 2022 continued the Big Sister–Little Sister tradition during a special prayer service at Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church this past Friday.

Days before the prayer service, the seniors, maintaining their anonymity, left ornamental gifts in their little sister's lockers for them to wear on the unveiling day. The gifts were intended to be used by the freshmen little sisters as clues to their big sister's identity.

#neverbestill

I think it's a good idea to designate certain months to raise awareness for relevant topics.

But, I also believe that it's a good idea to keep these movements going on year round and always on our minds.

Last week, I talked about how the month of October is Domestic Violence Awareness Month.

Well, the month of October also brings awareness to another topic that is near and dear to my heart, Pregnancy and Infant Loss Awareness.

I'm the proud aunt of Evan and Gracie, born prematurely in 2012 and 2013. They were born quite close to their due dates, but their little bodies were not developed enough to survive.

As I try to remember to do each year, I light a candle on October 15, which is Pregnancy and Infant Loss Remembrance Day, to honor their memories.

According to october15th.com, in 1988, President Ronald Reagan declared October as National Pregnancy and Infant Loss Awareness Month.

"When a child loses his parent, they are called an orphan. When a spouse loses his or her partner, they are called a widow or widower. When parents lose their child, there isn't a word to describe them. This month recognizes the loss so many parents experience across the United States and around the world. It is also meant to inform and provide resources for parents who have lost children due to miscarriage, ectopic pregnancy, molar pregnancy, stillbirths, birth defects, SIDS, and other causes," — President Ronald Reagan.

Robyn Bear, the founder of www.october15th.com, "envisioned a day when all grieving parents could come together and be surrounded by love and support from their friends and families, a day where the community could better understand their pain and learn how to reach out to those grieving. This would be a day to reflect on the loss yet embrace the love. While our babies' lives were so brief, they were also very meaningful."

Evan and Gracie will never be forgotten.

The first time I ever saw a baby on an ultrasound was when I went with my sister and mom to her doctor's appointment. Seeing his little body move about was a wonder to behold.

Tragically, a short while later, he would become our angel baby.

In my excitement over becoming an aunt for the first time, I threw my sister a surprise baby

Hancock History Cedar Rest Cemetery

A cemetery is not only a repository of gravesites, containing the remains of buried, or otherwise interred, dead people, but also a treasure trove of local history. The Cedar Rest Cemetery was created or became the property of the town of Bay St. Louis in 1860. The original tract of land was a donation by Jacques Baptiste Toulme. Toulme was an early town leader as mayor, successful merchant, landowner, and entrepreneur.

A second addition of land was acquired by a swap between St. Luke's Episcopal Church and the city in 1888. A third acquisition in 1891 was a gift to the city by Joan Newman Seal. There are 2,418 known burial sites embedded with rich genealogical data or statistics that contain many stories to tell which are important contributions to the history of Hancock County.

The word cemetery is derived from a Greek word for "sleeping place." Gravesite funerals are 'rites of passage' for the 'sleeping' corpses. Some folks believe that the ghosts of the people buried at Cedar Rest Cemetery still reside in this graveyard and come out of their tombs or graves at night, certainly on Halloween.

The Hancock County

Historical Society will offer to the public the 26th Annual Cemetery Tour on Saturday, October 30, 2021, at the Cedar Rest Cemetery in Bay St. Louis. The fun begins at 5:00 PM and continues to 7:00 PM. Admission to this tour is free, but donations are graciously accepted. After the tour, everyone is invited to the Loblano House around the corner at 108 Cue Street for punch, hot dogs, cookies, and other treats.

On the cemetery tour, several long term residents of the cemetery will appear and speak to the visitors, young and old, about their previous lives, dressed in the fashion of the day. One interesting historical figure is Charles Sanger (1858-1935). Sanger was an important builder/contractor accredited with the construction of a number of major buildings in Bay St. Louis such as St. Stanislaus College, Merchants Bank, City Hall, and many fine homes on Beach Blvd. This well-known person was also a drilling contractor providing quality drinking water from many artesian wells.

Another ghost who promised to attend the cemetery tour is Ardell Ealy Cuevas (1879-1966). Ardell was of Native American descent. She married into the old Cuevas family that originally settled on Cat Island during the colonial period of our history. She married Wilson Victor Cuevas (1871-1939) who was a logger. Ardell and Wilson had three sons and one daughter. Many Choctaw Indians residing in Hancock County in the 19th cen-

MASS Urges Drivers to Use Caution Around School Buses

National School Bus Safety Week is Oct. 18-22

Now that daylight hours are shorter, the Mississippi Association of School Superintendents reminds motorists to obey the law — and help prevent tragedies in their communities — by using caution when encountering school buses.

MASS is joining forces with schools, parents, law enforcement agencies and others to promote safe driving practices during National School Bus Safety Week Oct. 18-22.

"School buses are designed to keep students safe, but their safety features are no match for careless drivers," said Phil Burchfield, MASS executive director. "This time of year, many students are picked up early in the morning when it's still dark, which can affect visibility. Drivers should be extra cautious when they encounter school buses and make sure that distractions and impatience don't cloud their judgment."

As part of this year's campaign, MASS is building upon its award-winning '30 Seconds Can Save a Lifetime' initiative with website and social media posts, print and radio advertising, news features and other forums to reach as many Mississippians as possible. The theme is based on the average time it takes for students to get on or off their school buses at bus stops.

"We chose '30 Seconds Can Save a Lifetime' to remind drivers that the decisions they make at bus stops have real consequences because real lives are involved," Burchfield said. "Each child on the bus has a home, a family, and a future full of hopes, dreams and aspirations. Waiting for them to safely get on and off the bus is time we are investing in their lives and their futures."

Drivers in Mississippi are required to stop at least 10 feet from a school bus when the bus is loading or unloading children. They must not proceed until all children have crossed the street, flashing red lights are no longer activated and the stop sign on the side of the bus is retracted.

MASS also is reminding drivers that there are serious consequences for disobeying the law. In 2011, the State Legislature passed Nathan's Law, which was named for a 5-year-old Jones County boy who was killed by a driver passing a stopped school bus.

In addition to higher fines, motorists will be charged with a felony if their illegal action results in injury or death. The law also allows school districts to mount cameras on stop arms to help identify offenders.

"Through the '30 Seconds Can Save a Lifetime' campaign, we're asking everyone

Gov. Tate Reeves Extends State of Emergency shower while she was visiting. Anyone who knows me well, knows that I’m not a party planner nor do I particularly enjoy attending such events.

But, I managed to pull off the surprise and it was a happy occasion. No one knew the tragedy that was to come.

This is why I have vowed to never throw another baby shower for anyone ever again.

Through the miracles of scientific and medical breakthroughs, I have a seven-year-old nephew and he is my world.

People often refer to a baby born after a loss as a “rainbow baby.” I think that is the perfect way to describe my nephew.

For me, he is the brightest light in my life.

Over the weekend, he called me and we talked for 30 minutes about this and that, mostly Mario Kart. When I hear that little voice on the phone, I feel as though my heart will burst right through my chest.

The Star Legacy Foundation’s October campaign is #neverbestill, a movement that “seeks to break the silence surrounding stillbirth and other pregnancy/infant losses by not only educating the public about ways to support bereaved families but also empowering expectant mothers to have a healthy pregnancy.”

My sister has shared her story before and I hope that it has helped someone who has experienced the same loss and know that they are not alone.

But, I often think about the people who don’t share their stories, which is their prerogative. It has to be hard for them when they see pictures of newborns or when someone asks them when they are having children. It’s one of the rudest things people can ask. What goes on in someone else’s womb is no one else’s business.

Irritatingly enough, people seem to think that minding their own business is not enough to keep them occupied.

I hope that more people will learn to think before they ask questions about someone else’s womb. There is potential to open up old and painful wounds.

There are people who decide to share their stories and I’m glad for that. It helps people learn that they are not, in fact, alone and that joy can be found after great tragedy.

Evann and Gracie will never be forgotten.

tury successfully assimilated into local society. Choctaw women in Hancock County were noted for their facial beauty and were multi-lingual.

A third character in our Cemetery Tour who has promised to come back from the dead is Charles Marshall (1848-1928).

Marshall was a railroad man who worked his way up the ranks as an operator, freight agent, dispatcher, and finally Superintendent of the L & N Railroad in New Orleans. He moved to Bay St. Louis in 1893, commuted to New Orleans everyday, and was an important community booster of Hancock County. He served on the Board of Directors of the Hancock Bank, the Sea Wall and Bond Commission, the Masonic Lodge, and Presbyterian Church. He was one of the best-loved and widely known characters of his era.

Cemeteries are important repositories of lost history that date back to ancient times. There are several ghost towns in Hancock County such as Logtown, Napoleon, Gainesville, Santa Rosa, Flat Top, and Bayou LaCroix where only the cemeteries survive. The hallowed ground in these graveyards are sometimes the only surviving artifacts of the lost communities except for the memories of the descendants of the original town folk, the folklore passed down from one generation to the next, and their precious little written history of their existence.

Come learn about Hancock County history at the Cedar Rest Cemetery Tour on Saturday, October 30, 2021 from 5-7 p.m. served as assistant fire chief and has been with Waveland Fire Department since 1996. Smith said that he has “always believed in promoting from within.” “He’s trained for this his whole career,” Smith said. Not only did Carver serve during Smith’s tenure as fire chief, he also worked with Mallini and former fire chief David Garcia. “We appreciate his service,” Smith said. Carver said that he couldn’t be “more happy” about his promotion. “I get to live every child’s dream of being a fire chief,” he said. “The last three chiefs are some of the best around and they made sure I was prepared and ready to hit the ground running. I’ve got big shoes to fill.” Carver said that the fire department is full of a “great” group of guys and he is already planning his future goals for the department. One of those goals includes creating room in the budget for upgrades to equipment such as the Jaws of Life, air packs, and turnout gear. Another goal includes creating an organized department training plan to enhance employees’ skills and knowledge. “I would request a training budget for each employee to attend at least one training class per fiscal year and refresher classes for EMT,” Carver said. “Additionally, numerous free and low-cost training is available through Hancock County Emergency Management Agency, MS State Fire Academy, and American Medical Response. Also, in-service shift training can be conducted at no cost to the city. We must remember first responders train for safety and survival.” Carver said that one of his other goals it to expand community outreach. “Public education protects our community by teaching emergency prevention and preparedness,” he said. “Residents, schools, and businesses will be the target audience for all public education programs. Life, safety, and property protection are the primary goals of Fire Prevention Education.” The fire prevention programs Carver has in mind include demonstrations on the fire prevention trailer, fire apparatus and equipment, fire extinguisher classes, and assistance in planning escape routes. Carver said that smoke alarms play a “vital” role in reducing fire deaths and injuries. The state’s Smoke Alarm program provides smoke alarms free of charge to low-income residents and are distributed by fire departments, he said. Carver also said that he would like for his department to provide more fire education at schools and even take the time to eat lunch with students. Finally, Carver said he plans to implement a severe weather preparedness education program, especially for the elderly and vulnerable adults. Topics would include, but not limited to, things to bring when evacuating, where to evacuate, and how to care for pets during a weather emergency. “Hurricanes, flooding, tornadoes, and thunderstorms are all severe weather conditions possible in Waveland,” Carver said.

GAYLE MARIE (DUPRE) ZIMMERMAN

Gayle Marie (Dupre) Zimmerman - wife, mother, grandmother and special educator, ended a four-year journey with dementia in which she slowly retreated from her rich and joyful life. She did so in the company of her husband of 48 years, Dr. Emmett Zimmerman, and her three sons, Dr. Jeff Zimmerman, Chris Zimmerman and Scott Zimmerman. Gayle passed away in her home in Mississippi on September 30, 2021. She was seventy one years old.

A native New Orleansian, Gayle received a degree in Special Education from the University of New Orleans in May, 1972. Shortly thereafter, Gayle married Emmett and began a lifetime of adventures. In pursuit of pleasures ranging from sharing great times on the Jourdan River, being the wife of Endymion royalty, world travels including religious pilgrimages, to being parent boosters at many schools, the couple was a strong team. Over a lifetime of raising three sons, growing Emmett’s dental practice, participating in professional organizations and business ventures, Gayle was his partner, his strongest and most loyal supporter, and above all, his forever soulmate.

Along with her marriage, her complete devotion to her children and family, in 1972 Gayle also began a career as an educator. For forty-one years, she found her true vocation at Saint Michael Special School. Her academic leadership extended from younger elementary students through vocational training for young adults. Her ministry reached to all levels of academics as well as a myriad of extracurricular activities. ‘Mrs. Gayle’ walked many extra miles in service to her much loved special students. In addition to training many cheerleader squads, she worked tirelessly for Special Olympics training athletes in gymnastics and chaperoning trips to tournaments and State Games. Using her extensive background in dance, Gayle choreographed and directed numerous school Christmas plays. As a longtime member of the Saint Michael’s Guild, Gayle played active roles, usually behind the scenes, in many events including the Blue Rose Ball and the Chefs Charity for Children. Gayle’s dedication to Saint Michael Special School, her love of the students, parents, and co-workers, her ability to face all things with humor and strong faith, were blessings to all that knew her and loved her so much.

The love and support of close friends helped tremendously in the years of Gayle’s illness. Spiritual guidance filled with prayer and understanding, lifting Gayle and Emmett up when they were down, and keeping them strong in faith when they most needed it, was always with them. Archbishop Emeritus Alfred Hughes and Archbishop Gregory Aymond, both of New Orleans, were pillars of support. The couple’s local pastor, Father Patrick (Paddy) Mockler visited daily to provide guidance and solace as the journey came to its end. Along with God’s grace, these spiritual counselors offered the invaluable gift of deepening friendship. Having such true friends was an integral part of Gayle’s ability to remain in her home for the duration of her illness. When care became close to overwhelming for the family to continue unaided, Emmett and Gayle found a gift of comfort and care through the generous acts and heart of Will Cox. His attendance to the many and varied needs of both Gayle and Emmett, any time of day or night, was offered with unending patience, fierce loyalty, and a kindness of spirit and actions that brought peace and joy to them both in these past years. Their thanks also extend to the Notre Dame Hospice of the Archdiocese of New Orleans for their tremendous assistance during the final months of Gayle’s life. Their loving care and services made the last months more comfortable and manageable. For all these giving people, it would be impossible to adequately express their gratitude. Gayle is survived by her husband of 48 years, Dr. Emmett Zimmerman, 111, three sons, Dr. Jeff Zimmerman, Chris Zimmerman (Shandie), and Scott Zimmerman, and six much cherished grandchildren, Evan, Shelby, Hallie, Abby, Kate and Vivian Zimmerman. In addition, she is mourned by two brothers, John Montalbano (Judy) and Alvin Dupre (Connie) and a host of nieces and nephews.

She was preceded in death by her parents Alvin and Mildred Dupre, her nephew Billy Montalbano, her nieces Kim Montalbano Rito (9/22/21) and Stacey Doussan (9/25/21)

A mass of Christian burial was con-celebrated on October 9, 2021 at Most Holy Trinity Catholic Church in Pass Christian. Celebrants were Archbishop Emeritus Hughes and the pastor of Most Holy Trinity, Father Patrick Mockler.

The private funeral arrangements were handled by the Edmond Fahey Funeral Home in Bay St. Louis, MS. Interment followed at Saint Joseph’s Abbey, Covington, Louisiana.

C. Gerald Richardson, D. Min.

An important text from the book of Proverbs reminds us of a great truth. “He that controls his spirit is greater than the one who takes a city”. (Proverbs 16) This was a favorite text of the late President

Dwight Eisenhower. The president was a great leader, both as commander of allied forces during WWII and later as chief executive of our country. His leadership was not characterized by domination or by being a ruthless boss. Rather, he led by staying focused on ultimate goals and by considering the feelings of others. He tried to take into account what other people were thinking and the challenges they were going through. This strategy was employed even with those with whom he disagreed. As a result he was often able to deal successfully with opposition. As president, he continued this line of thinking. He was able to accomplish significant achievements in the areas of civil rights, economic policy, and in personal relationships with other political leaders as well as with family and friends. His leadership was not partisan. Even when he was being considered for the office of president many people had no idea to which party he belonged. He paid little attention to such matters. His primary commitment was to a pledge that he had made as a student at West Point to support and defend the constitution of The United States of America. This pledge remained the guiding principal of his life, and it served him well. At his death President Lyndon B. Johnson (who was of a different party) delivered a moving statement honoring his character and his stewardship as a remarkable leader of our country. President Eisenhower was truly one who had learned to control his spirit.

What does it mean to be such a person and live such a life?

For one thing it means being honest with oneself. It is the practice of self-evaluation. It includes knowing that one’s own opinion is not the only one that counts. It means taking every possibility into consideration and seeking to act faithfully upon the convictions which emerge from such reflection. It is also the recognition that one could be in error. It is the willingness to acknowledge such errors and to make changes when appropriate. Nobody is perfect, and no conviction should be so set in stone that it cannot be altered when new information is available. To control one’s spirit is not only to act upon conviction (although it is that), but it is also to admit it when we are wrong and try a new way.

The same is true in the spiritual life.

Serious reflection and being open to new truth is just as important, and maybe more so, than absolute certainty. Human beings evolve and grow. New truth is not the enemy.

It is the doorway to possibilities yet unknown.

May we never shrink from new insight, but in the spirit of the writer of Proverbs, be open to new vistas in life.

The top three poker chip totals will win one of the three grand prizes.
"On the poker stroll, we're strongly encouraging costumes," Adams said. "There will be a costume contest at Cuz's after the stroll."
Proceeds from the stroll will benefit CASA of Hancock County, the Bay St. Louis Police Department and the Children's Center for Communication and Development.
"We selected these three outstanding beneficiaries because of their involvement, services and safety they provide to the children in our community," Adams said.

“The Beverly Hillbillies” opens on Friday, October 15th. The Little Theatre has responded to the requests of the community to be able to accommodate audiences during this Covid time.

In response to the Covid pandemic, the Little Theatre will follow the following protocols for the show dates and times of October 15, 16, 22, 23 at 8 pm and Sundays, October 17 and 24 at 2pm: audience members will be required to present proof of Covid vaccine when arriving at the door or show negative test for Covid within 72 hours of attendance. Masks are optional. Children will be asked to present proof of negative test when arriving at the door.

Further, two shows have been added with different Covid protocols. On Thursday, October 28 and Friday, October 29 at 8pm, the protocols will be masks only.

by the MS Court of Appeals on Monday.

The court confirmed the conviction and denied Greer’s appeal in 2002. In 2012, Greer filed a motion for post-conviction relief, claiming the circuit court that convicted him did not actually have jurisdiction over the case. The appeals court at the time denied Greer’s motion.

“On March 24, 2017, Greer filed a petition in the circuit court for parole recommendation,” according to the report. “After the circuit court denied the petition, he appealed. The Supreme Court dismissed the appeal on Jan. 11, 2018, find the court’s order was not an appealable judgment.”

Greer again petitioned for a parole hearing in August 2018, and in October 2018, filed a motion to “set-aside illegal sentence pursuant to error of sentencing under wrong statute,” but again, the state Supreme Court denied the motion.

Most recently, Greer filed a “petition for reclassification hearing” on Feb. 24, 2020, asking the circuit court to reclassify him as a non-violent offender, “which he claims would allow him parole eligibility,” according to the report. The circuit court denied the motion, and Greer appealed.

The court of appeals determined that the circuit court “incorrectly denied rather than dismissed” Greer’s petition, but ruled the “we find the distinction immaterial” and affirmed the court’s order.

Christopher Daniel.

Necaise served as an intern for Daniel and the Hancock County D.A.’s office in 2016 while finishing up his law degree at Mississippi College. After he graduated, he served as parent defender at Hancock County Youth Court from 2017-2018, and then as a public defender in Pearl River County from 2018-2020.

A Hancock County native, Necaise grew up in the Dedeaux community.

The Second Circuit Court District Attorney’s office prosecutes felonies in Hancock, Harrison and Stone counties. The central headquarters operates in Gulfport. There had previously been only one assistant attorney assigned to the Hancock County office at a time.

However, Necaise said, “District Attorney W. Crosby Parker and the Hancock County Board of Supervisors recognized there was a need for another A.D.A. in Hancock County. I’m just happy that they expanded it and allowed me to be a part of the team. I think they’re a great team and I’m excited to be a part of it. ... I’m thankful to everybody for supporting the position.”

• CRUISIN

Lonnie Falgout said.

“I’m overwhelmed by what I saw on Thursday,” he said.

Green said that it was a “banner year” for Hancock County’s merchants, considering Cruisin’ coincided with this month’s Second Saturday events.

She also added that many Cruisers are coming earlier and earlier to enjoy the amenities prior to the arrival of the crowds.

“A lot of them are staying in Hancock County’s hotels and vacation rentals,” she said.

Hancock County also hosted Cruisin’s 25th birthday at the Hollywood Casino, Green said, complete with birthday cake and fireworks on Friday night.

“We felt fortunate for Hancock County to get the birthday party,” she said.

Each year, Hancock County Tourism — which pays the fees for Cruisin’ the Coast — sets up a booth downtown and hands out visitor information, Green said.
